Regarding the fraud by MUMN president Paul Pace who amongst others used to claim overtime he didn't actually work, these at Enemalta used to make change shifts to gain "extra pay for which you are not entitled" (see attachment). When I had reported these abuses to the whistleblower and the then CEO of Enemalta Frederick Azzopardi himself, he covered them up and myself had to pay the price of his vengeance. Would you investigate the matter or when it comes to investigate certain individuals you take a step back and remain completely silent? Visit my website link (<https://www.smashyouagainsthewall.com/FredAzzopardi.html>) or google search "who is frederick azzopardi" for more information, the mentioned link comes the 2nd one in the list. If you are going to quote from my website, ensure you make references to it.
